Publications In collaboration with the European Commission, the WFP Technical Support Unit is preparing two publications for the UN Committee on World Food Security (CFS) on the WFP aid assessment methodology that was developed in collaboration with the World Bank. The WFP Programme The WFP invests in hunger and nutrition to end the suffering and poverty associated with hunger and malnutrition. Working in some of the world's poorest and most remote areas, we feed people to save them from hunger and malnutrition. We also run a Health and Nutrition Fund, which works with local health workers to improve maternal and child nutrition. Nebraska Center for the Book The Nebraska Center for the Book, also known as the Nebraska Center for the Book/Library, is a non-profit organization founded in 2012 to provide support to the state's book and library industries. Headquartered in Lincoln, Nebraska, the Center serves as a convening place for the Nebraska book community, education sector, and related cultural organizations. The Center's stated mission is "to advance and promote the reading and writing of the written word in Nebraska." History In the summer of 2012, Nebraska Center for the Book Executive Director Andrew Noll was invited to participate in a planning effort to create a new organization, the Nebraska Center for the Book (NCB). Starting in 2013, NCB began hosting events and activities to provide a strong core to an organization. NCB's first permanent meeting place was the historic Landmark Building in downtown Lincoln. In 2014, NCB hired its first Executive Director, Andrew Noll. In 2017, NCB moved into its new headquarters at 1809 Harney Street in downtown Lincoln. Andrew Noll retired in June 2019 to pursue other opportunities. The Center Board of Directors hired as its Executive Director, Mike Salerich. In early 2019, NCB received $750,000 to commence construction of a 300-seat conference center at its headquarters at 1809 Harney Street. The Center's conference facility will be called the Willard R. and Kathryn Murphy Events Center. The Center hopes to complete the facility by the end of the year with the first event to be held in spring 2020. On February 28, 2019, it was announced that NCB had been selected to receive a $2.5 million grant to expand its operations. References Category:
